LESSON 1 At the palace of St Cloud the queen organised a party. Guests gathered in bristling uniforms and rustling taffeta to admire Zeraffa.

“What a handsome creature!” said the gentleman

“How sweet she is with such long eyelashes and such a black tongue!” said the ladies.

1

In the garden , the King prepared a rotunda with wooden floors and a mosaic of straw on the walls . People came in thousands to see her. Paris fell in love. They wrote poems and songs. Gardeners clipped giraffe hedges. Bakers baked giraffe biscuits. Dogs wore spotted jackets . Men wore tall hats. Girls wore red ribbons around their necks. Ladies glued long eye lashes to their lids and twisted their hair up into giraffe styles.

What did Atir whisper to Zeraffa ? Look for the key words - He whispered

In the evenings , after the crowds had left, the kings granddaughter , Marie , slipped secretly into the garden. She climbed the ladder to the platform where she stood face to face with Zeraffa and combed her mane and fed her apples. Then she listened as Atir whispered in Zeraffa ear. He told tales of a hot land far away where grass grows tall and acacias taste sweet. He whispered stories of a lake and of stars that turn the sky into curdled milk and of a hot haboob wind. Then they stood in silence and looked out over the lights of Paris. And on those evenings , when the air was particularly balmy, all three turned their faces southwards.... and on the warm air they felt the kiss of Africa.
